James William Marriott (born 7 July 1997) is a Swiss-born English musician and YouTuber. He is best known for his 2025 No. 1 UK charting album Don't Tell the Dog. Earlier, he charted at No. 17 on the UK Albums Chart with Are We There Yet? and No. 67 on the UK singles chart with "I Don't Want to Live Like This".

Marriott was born in Switzerland but grew up in England. After uploading videos of his instrumental acoustic music, he attracted attention after diversifying into caustic YouTube commentary videos and Twitch livestreams. A debut single, "Slow Down", was released in May 2020, followed by the extended plays (EPs) No Left Brain and Bitter Tongues and his debut album Are We There Yet? in 2023. Marriott cites Foals and the Strokes as major influences and his music is generally described as indie rock.

"Are We There Yet?" is the eighth episode of the eighth season of the American crime drama television series Dexter. It is the 92nd overall episode of the series and was written by executive producer Wendy West, and directed by Holly Dale. It originally aired on Showtime on August 18, 2013.

Set in Miami, the series centers on Dexter Morgan, a forensic technician specializing in bloodstain pattern analysis for the fictional Miami Metro Police Department, who leads a secret parallel life as a vigilante serial killer, hunting down murderers who have not been adequately punished by the justice system due to corruption or legal technicalities. In the episode, Dexter and Hannah track Zach to the Key West after he is suspected of Cassie's murder, while Debra gets Elway to help her in capturing Hannah.

According to Nielsen Media Research, the episode was seen by an estimated 1.94 million household viewers and gained a 0.9 ratings share among adults aged 18–49. The episode received mixed reviews from critics, who criticized the season's pacing and storylines, with some noting the irony of the episode's title.
