

Passionaccia

The rise of feminist advocacy in the latter half of the 20th century further influenced the representation of Passionaccia on screen. Filmmakers began to portray women who positively embraced their desires, challenging the chauvinistic structures that sought to suppress them. These characters were regularly self-reliant, self-assured, and hesitant to conform to cultural expectations.

Post-war Italian cinema saw a shift towards increased mental depth in its characters. Films like those from Visconti and Antonioni started to explore the inner lives of women with more refinement, exposing their subtleties and goals beyond simply their sexuality. These films featured women who were passionate not only in their romantic relationships but also in their quest of personal fulfillment, commonly challenging societal expectations.
